Welcome and Announcements

Call to Worship

I remember when I didn't have the things I have now; I longed for something different, or better.

Jesus promised me the abundant life. Through many trials, I tried to discern what that meant.

Was there abundance? Did I have enough? I worried about my family, myself, and the world.

Then I saw God's provision in others' lives. I witnessed answered prayers, fulfilled hopes, and new life.

I prayed for God to remove what prevented me from seeing. Was it grief? Was it fear?

Lord, we want to see you in our lives and remember all you have done. May you be celebrated in our worship today, remembering your steadfast love and faithfulness. Amen.

(Inspired by Deuteronomy 8)

Call to Confession

Prayer of Confession

Gracious and Faithful God, why do we turn to you in times of trouble, yet neglect to give you our thanks when we receive your blessings? You give us life and sustain us, yet we are distracted by many things: wealth and greed, competing voices and self-sustenance. Forgive us, oh God, where we have failed to trust and where we do not see your grace, which you promise in abundance. We take these silent moments to confess and to praise you and thank you for not only what you have done, but for who you are.
